

THE DIGESTIVE SYSTEM

In the video you learned that animals have specialized structures that help them break down their food so they can get the nutrients they need to stay alive. Seastars and brittle stars eat different types of food. Explain how their digestive system is designed to help them do this.....

The seastar eats live food, but it has a very small mouth so it....

The brittle star is a scavenger that has to crawl on top of its food and.....