

THE DIGESTIVE SYSTEM

In the video you learned that animals have specialized structures that help them break down their food so they can get the nutrients they need to stay alive. Fill in the boxes below about the seastar and horseshoe crab.

The seastar has a very small mouth, so to help it get food, it has.....

The horseshoe crab does not have any teeth on the outside, so to break down its food.....